HEART CONNECTIONS – NO NEW PHOTOS

Posted on November 17th, 2022 by Shari O'Laughin, TCF CEO

This past summer was the ten-year anniversary of the death of my son, Connor. I was struck by the inadequacy I felt about how to describe this very unwanted milestone that came faster than I would have imagined. I didn't like the evident recognition of so many years passing since I last saw, hugged, spoke, and laughed with my only son. I struggled further when I looked for photos that I wanted to post on Facebook as I tried to express what was in my heart at that moment.

Photos tend to mark time and progress. Family photos are guideposts to our updated lives over the decades. How is that true when our child, sibling, or grandchild's photos are frozen in time, and we will never have new photos of them again? Where is that meaning when we have a finite number of photos to recirculate that must tide us over for a lifetime?

We, who received love and compassion from others in our time of deep sorrow, now wish to offer the same support and understanding to you. Please know we understand, we care, and we want to help. You are not alone in your grief.

Meetings are held the 2nd Monday of each month at the Foundation Center Conference Room in Lafreniere Park at 7:00 P.M. We are a self-sustaining organization with no funds except what we receive through donations from members and newsletter recipients. Please join with us at a meeting.

Grief support after the death of a child

The Compassionate Friends is a national non-profit, self-help support organization that offers friendship, understanding, and hope to bereaved parents, grandparents and siblings. There is no religious affiliation and there are no membership dues or fees.

The secret of TCF's success is simple: As seasoned grievers reach out to the newly bereaved, energy that has been directed inward begins to flow outward and both are helped to heal.

The vision of The Compassionate Friends is that everyone who needs us will find us and everyone who finds us will be helped.

Most of us long for new photos that would display the physical growth of our loved one who died. What would our child, sibling, or grandchild look like when they were learning to drive, graduating high school or college, or walking down the aisle in marriage as we witness their friends do over the years? How would they look when cradling their firstborn child in wonder? We somehow still grow during these years that they are physically absent from us and from our photos. Some of us have other children who pass through all the beautiful milestones and marking points of their lives that we are privileged and honored to share. New things come into our lives that spring from the person we've become through our loss. We make meaning in our lives in unique ways that we would not have previously imagined. How we live in the world represents growth in honor of the lives we shared with them.

Perhaps when there are photos far in the future that they cannot be present in, their light shines through us in those photos even as their older photos age and date with time. Maybe we carry their light and their lives in significant enough ways that this helps us just a little with the pain of not having new photos. When someone tells me that I have a warm smile in a photo or an air of light in a photo, I know that exists, in part, because of the ways that I live from my love for Connor. May you find the shining light of your child, grandchild, or sibling, in your new photos, no matter how many years have passed, and may this bring you some comfort.

TCF Greater New Orleans Chapter Memorial Walk & Auction

The 2023 TCF GNO Children's Memorial Walk and Auction was truly a success. Millie and I were very humble to see so many bereaved parents, grandparents, and siblings coming together to make this event happen. There are so many people to thank who helped so much for the Walk and Auction event. Big thanks goes out to all who donated funds, personal items and obtained donations from local vendors/sponsors. Jan and Ted Dutilh worked our food table. Debi Giordano arranged all the food donations from Gilbert, Kelly & Couturie. Isabel worked the registration and sales table. Thank you to our volunteers who helped with so much.

Thank you to Angie Calamari and Sue Viener who led our Children's Memorial Walk by carrying the banner in memory of their children, and all the other parents, grandparents, siblings, family and friends who walked in memory of our loved ones.

Again, we cannot say Thank You enough.

A Picture Of You
By Deborah Robinson

I only have a picture now
a frozen piece of time –
To remind me of how it was when you were here, and mine.
I see your smiling eyes
each morning when I wake –
I talk to you, and place a kiss upon your lovely face.
How much I miss you being here
I really cannot say –

The ache is deep inside my heart and never goes away.
I hear it mentioned often that time will heal the pain –
But if I'm being honest
I hope it will remain.
I need to feel you constantly to get me through the day –

WILLIAM M CAIN, JR
11/17/86 - 4/21/14

I loved you so very much
why did you go away?
The angels came and took you that really wasn't fair –
They took my one and only Son my future life. My heir.
If only they had asked me
if I would take your place –
I would have done so willingly leaving you this world to grace.

You should have had so many years to watch your life unfold –
And in the mist of this,
watch me, your Mom grow old!
I hope you're watching from above
at the daily tasks I do –
And let there be no doubt at all
I really do love you.

Happy Heavenly Birthday...Love, Mom

AN ETERNAL MEMORY
OF A MUCH LOVED SON

This is for someone wonderful as loved as one could be for you were everything in life you meant the world, you see
And sometimes life can be unkind
When hearts are torn in two
But nothing ever could compare to the pain of losing you
But all the love you left behind,
Forever will live on
And so until we meet again
Rest peacefully, dear Son.

Dear Trey, I was sitting in the deer stand that we built together, and you camouflaged with cans of paid and wild leaves from the forest. The beautiful red cardinals were singing, and a cottontail was eating. In the field. The empty chair was next to me, but I knew you were sitting there too. I said a little prayer to you and there came momma deer and her two fawns, so I could watch them play. Thank you for listening to me and always watching over us. Our hearts will be forever broken, but we will look forward to the day we will be together again. Happy Heavenly 39th Birthday Trey!

We Love & Miss you,
Dad, Mom, Andrea and Stella

Newsletter Dedication in Memory of

Stephan Osbourn

November 11, 1993 – February 19, 2022

Dear Stephan,

Today would have been your 30th birthday, my dear son, and my heart is heavy with the knowledge that you are no longer here with us. As I write this letter, tears stream down my face, and my emotions are a mix of sadness, grief, and a profound sense of loss. I miss you so much, Stephan, and I wish I could have celebrated this milestone with you.

I want you to know that despite the struggles you faced with drug addiction, my love for you never wavered. I saw the beautiful soul within you, the person you truly were beyond the grip of addiction. Your struggles did not define you, my son. You were so much more than that. You were intelligent, compassionate, and talented in so many ways. Your smile, when it appeared, could light up a room, and your laughter was infectious.

I remember the times we spent together, the laughter and joy we shared. I remember your dreams and aspirations, the potential that shone so brightly within you. I held onto the hope that you would overcome your addiction, that you would find your way back to the life you deserved. But addiction is a relentless beast, and it stole you away from us far too soon.

On this day, I am reminded of the dreams and possibilities that were cut short. I mourn the life that could have been, the milestones we could have celebrated together. It breaks my heart to think of the pain and struggles you endured, the battles you fought in silence. I wish I could have done more to help you, to save you from the clutches of it all.

But I want you to know, my dear Stephan, that I am not defined by regrets. Instead, I choose to remember the moments of joy and love we shared. The endless fun & love we shared, the cookouts, the fire pits & of course the fishing adventures. I choose to remember the beautiful person you were before your struggles ensued. I choose to remember your smile, your laughter, and your love for life. The precious boy with ringlet curls and a smile as big as the sky is the Stephan I will always hold close in my heart.

As I celebrate your 30th birthday, I will honor your memory by spreading awareness about addiction and advocating for those who are still fighting this battle. I want to help others, to prevent families from experiencing the heartache that we have endured. Your struggle will not be in vain, Stephan. I will carry your legacy forward, thru Kross and I will do everything in my power to make a difference.

Although you are no longer here, I believe that your spirit is free from the pain and suffering that addiction brought you. I hope that you have found peace, my precious son. I hope that from heaven you can feel the love that surrounds you still on earth and the impact you had on my life.

On this day, and every day, I will hold you close in shattered heart.

You were and always will be my beloved son, full of potential, love, and light. Happy 30th birthday, my sweet boy.

With all my love, Momma

ON THE DEATH OF THE BELOVED

Though we need to weep your loss,
You dwell in that safe place in our hearts
Where no storm or night or pain can reach you.

Your love was like the dawn
Brightening over our lives,
Awakening beneath the dark
A further adventure of color.

The sound of your voice
Found for us
A new music
That brightened everything.

Whatever you enfolded in your gaze
Quickened in the joy of its being;
You placed smiles like flowers
On the altar of the heart,
Your mind always sparkled
With the wonder at things.

Though your days here were brief,
Your spirit was alive, awake, complete.

Though we cannot see you with outward eyes,
We know our souls gaze is upon your face,
Smiling back at us from within everything
To which we bring our best refinement.

We look toward each other no longer
From the old distance of our names;
Now you dwell inside the rhythm of breath,
As close to us as we are to ourselves.

Let us not look for you only in memory,
Where we would grow lonely without you.
You would want us to find you in presence,
Besides us when beauty brightens,
When kindness glows
And music echoes eternal tones.

When orchids brighten the earth,
Darkest winter has turned to spring;
May this dark grief flower with hope
In every heart that loves you.

May you continue to inspire us:
To enter each day with a generous heart.
To serve the call of courage and love
Until we see your beautiful face again
In that land where there is no more separation,
Where all tears will be wiped from our mind,
And where we will never lose you again.

REBUILDING YOUR LIFE ONE PIECE AT A TIME

Death, especially unexpected death, changes one's life in ways that cannot be anticipated. With the death of someone close, one's world is forever changed.

One analogy I have found myself using with clients is the following: If you were to imagine the day before your loved one died, there was an intact picture of your life. The picture may not have been perfect, but it was there and it made sense. There was a beginning, a middle and an expected end. With death comes the destruction of that picture. It is as if the picture is taken out of your hands, smashed to the ground in a thousand pieces and then some of the most treasured pieces are forever taken away.

The challenge with grief is to then take all of those pieces which are left and attempt to make a new picture. The picture of the life you once had is impossible to recreate, as much as one may try, it cannot be recreated with pieces missing. A new picture must be assembled with the pieces that are left and with new pieces that are picked up along the way.

The process of putting the pieces back together is one that often feels chaotic and confusing. It may sometimes be surprising to find out how much thinking is involved in the grief process. Thoughts bounce around trying to connect what was with what is and struggle to make sense out of what seems to be incomprehensible.

With each piece, the bereaved, through trial and error, find where each piece belongs or even if it belongs at all. This process is different for every person and does not adhere to any kind of timeline. This thinking is the work that grief demands; it is the creation of a new picture of your life created one piece at a time.

STEPHANIE ELSON – FROM TCF BLOG

THE COMPASSIONATE FRIENDS CREDO

WE NEED NOT WALK ALONE. WE ARE THE COMPASSIONATE FRIENDS. WE REACH OUT TO EACH OTHER WITH LOVE, WITH UNDERSTANDING, AND WITH HOPE. THE CHILDREN WE MOURN HAVE DIED AT ALL AGES AND FROM MANY DIFFERENT CAUSES, BUT OUR LOVE FOR THEM UNITES US. YOUR PAIN BECOMES MY PAIN, JUST AS YOUR HOPE BECOMES MY HOPE. WE COME TOGETHER FROM ALL WALKS OF LIFE, FROM MANY DIFFERENT CIRCUMSTANCES. WE ARE A UNIQUE FAMILY BECAUSE WE REPRESENT MANY RACES, CREEDS, AND RELATIONSHIPS. WE ARE YOUNG, AND WE ARE OLD. SOME OF US ARE FAR ALONG IN OUR GRIEF, BUT OTHERS STILL FEEL A GRIEF SO FRESH AND SO INTENSELY PAINFUL THAT THEY FEEL HELPLESS AND SEE NO HOPE. SOME OF US HAVE FOUND OUR FAITH TO BE A SOURCE OF STRENGTH, WHILE SOME OF US ARE STRUGGLING TO FIND ANSWERS. SOME OF US ARE ANGRY, FILLED WITH GUILT OR IN DEEP DEPRESSION, WHILE OTHERS RADIATE AN INNER PEACE. BUT WHATEVER PAIN WE BRING TO THIS GATHERING OF THE COMPASSIONATE FRIENDS, IT IS PAIN WE WILL SHARE, JUST AS WE SHARE WITH EACH OTHER OUR LOVE FOR THE CHILDREN WHO HAVE DIED. WE ARE ALL SEEKING AND STRUGGLING TO BUILD A FUTURE FOR OURSELVES, BUT WE ARE COMMITTED TO BUILDING A FUTURE TOGETHER. WE REACH OUT TO EACH OTHER IN LOVE TO SHARE THE PAIN AS WELL AS THE JOY, SHARE THE ANGER AS WELL AS THE PEACE, SHARE THE FAITH AS WELL AS THE DOUBTS, AND HELP EACH OTHER TO GRIEVE AS WELL AS TO GROW. WE NEED NOT WALK ALONE. WE ARE THE COMPASSIONATE FRIENDS.

Thankful vs. Thankless

This is the time of year when many bereaved parents start saying out loud what newly bereaved parents have been thinking for weeks and weeks—“I really am dreading the holidays.” And why not? When your grief is so new, you haven’t had the necessary time to accept life as it is for you now.

On the other hand, there are those of us who have had that necessary time and the proper support who are able to observe the holidays in a less painful way. We have kept some of the old traditions that warm our hearts and thrown out those that are either too painful or meaningless now. We have created a life that doesn’t include someone who was a vital part of who and what we were. We’re different now, doing different things because losing a child forces you into that position if you are to survive in an emotionally healthy way.

The words thankful and thankless follow one another in my dictionary; so close together in a book, yet so far apart in meaning. When you think about it, the difference between the two words is full and less. Though those of us who have had more time do, like the more newly bereaved, have less in the way of family, our lives still do have a fullness because we have learned to be thankful and appreciate that which we have left in the way of people and memories—more so than we ever thought possible.

As you approach this Thanksgiving, if you haven’t yet been able to make your adjustment, I hope you will feel what you must for now because whatever you are feeling is okay. It isn’t until you have reached the place in your grief where the ability to make good choices returns to your life that you can make some important changes in how you approach the holidays. I hope the transition from thankless to thankful will be soon in coming for you, for that will mean some peace has returned to your life. Above all, I do wish you peace during this holiday season. I wish you more of the same in the new year.

Mary Cleckley, TCFLawrenceville, GA

You Will Survive the Holidays

You may be hurt, but you will survive. The holidays may be the worst part of your grief time. Eventually, you will heal, and your memories will persist without pain. Meanwhile, it’s OK not to have a good time. There may be no way you can make this holiday fun and nothing you want to do. Allow that you may not enjoy parties, reunions and events of the season. If you are hurting and unable or unwilling to have your attention on anything else, let yourself be. It is also OK to have a good time, even though you have experienced a loss. You do not have to deny pleasure to yourself or your family. While grieving, we often feel guilty about having fun, as if we should be miserable all twenty-four hours of a day. That is not necessary. Often, we think it is how much we grieve that signifies how much we care about the one who died. Not true! Our love is not measured by the extent of our grief. We can love forever without having grief as our testimonial to that love. Remember, few of us would want others to be forever bereft because we were gone. Perhaps, the best testimonial we can give to our missing loved ones is how we live our lives. Don’t deny yourself life because someone has died. If you can do so, enjoy the holidays and everyday; for death teaches us, more than anything, that every day of life is precious and worth living to the fullest. The best gift we can give ourselves and others for the holidays and every day is to live our lives wholeheartedly.
